Experience the power of Enviro-Biotics™

What do we do?

We make it simple to protect indoor environments from harmful pollutants and irritants by leveraging the power of Enviro-Biotics™ ; comprised of water and Bacillus a ferment. Our patented technology works on microscopic level and repetitively releases billions of micron sized Enviro-Biotics™ to purify the air and clean surfaces and objects; resulting in a healthy microbiome.

How Does it Work?

Our purification systems directly tap into existing air ducts and are designed to automatically release Enviro-Biotics™ into the air which are carried by air flow throughout the indoor space. The Enviro-Biotics™ land on surfaces and penetrate hard to reach objects such as keyboards, carpets, toys, linens, door handles and much more.

What makes us different?

Our systems not only improve indoor air quality, but also prolong the cleanliness of indoor surfaces. The Enviro-Biotics™ land on surfaces and consume the resources available to harmful bacteria such as dust mite excrement, pollen, pet dander and shed skin cells. With fewer irritants on surfaces, less are emitted into the air thus providing fresher and cleaner air.
